Hines

“We’re able to better understand what our project outcomes will be because of the accuracy, the consistency, and the live insights provided by Honest Buildings.”

FRANK SAPHIRE, VP OF PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

convene™

“The access to data has improved our ability to make decisions on what we’re putting into our spaces, how we’re designing, what the content is, what matters to the organization. With Honest Buildings, we can make those decisions in real time.”

BRIAN TOLMAN, SVP DESIGN & CONSTRUCTION

PARKWAY

“Utilizing Honest Buildings for the bidding and tracking of each project we have begun to see up to a 20% reduction in time to build out the spaces, which gives us considerable competitive advantage in securing tenants at our assets.”

MIKE FRANSEN, CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

OXFORD

“Honest Buildings enables data insights that we’ve never had before. We have an expression at Oxford, faster, better, cheaper. There always has to be a better way and this tool gives us a better way to improve how we execute that will be able to help us make better decisions.”

MICHAEL TURNER, PRESIDENT

The Value of Honest Buildings

ENABLE BETTER PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Ensure transparency & consistency

Portfolio-wide visibility ensures data transparency; team members at every level have access to real-time project information.

Decrease time spent on admin tasks

Automated bid leveling, cost tracking, and accounting integrations decrease time spent on administrative tasks.

Accelerate project timelines

Centralized, standardized collaboration eliminates the need for document version control and disorganized email communication.

LEVERAGE DATA FOR INSIGHTFUL DECISION MAKING

Aggregate project data

Improve budgeting and underwriting accuracy with insights from aggregated portfolio-wide project data.

Reduce project costs

Easy access to historical vendor bids, change orders, and milestones allow teams to make decisions that will reduce project costs in the future.

Surface new data insights

Improve cost, timeline, and resource planning through easily-accessible historical project data.
